

Transition from Hospital to Home

Our program helps families and caregivers feel comfortable, knowledgeable, and confident managing their child's medical needs at home.

One of Roger Neilson Children's Hospice's great benefits is our unique relationship with and proximity to CHEO. Our Transition from Hospital to Home Program allows us to help families experience a safe and timely move for children from hospital to home.

Our transition program offers:

- Planning based on individual goals and timelines.
- Support and training for families/caregivers as they take responsibility for their child's care at home.
- 24/7 skilled nursing care for support and reinforcement of the training received.

Our Pediatric Hospice Palliative Care Programs

Transition support builds comfort, knowledge and confidence for managing a child's medical needs at home.

Before Discharge from the Hospital

We know that hospitalizations, changes to care plans, and/or new technology can sometimes be a worry for families.

Our team will provide you and the in-hospital team caring for your child admitted to the hospital with an additional layer of support.

While the in-hospital team will provide necessary education/training and connect with the Home and Community Care team to coordinate resources and supplies, our team will be available to support.

At Discharge from the Hospital

In some cases, additional support may be of benefit. In those cases, an admission to Roger Neilson Children's Hospice after discharge from the hospital and before returning home can be coordinated.

In these instances, you will accompany your child during their Transition from Hospital to Home admission at Roger Neilson Children's Hospice to provide care and work towards learning goals with the 24/7 support of our team.
